Dividend announcement

Our company's 107th annual general meeting of May 6, 2010 resolved for the fiscal year 2009 to distribute a cash dividend of €1.80 per eligible no-par share.

As from Friday, May 7, 2010, Clearstream Banking AG, Frankfurt/Main, will pay out the dividends via the depositories less 25% withholding tax on dividend payments and a solidarity surcharge of 5,5% on the withholding tax (hence an aggregate 26.375%) and, where applicable, church tax on the withholding tax.

German resident stockholders who have submitted to their depositories a non-assessment certificate issued by their local tax office will receive the full dividend without the above tax deductions, and so will stockholders to the extent that they had presented a declaration for exemption from withholding tax to their depositories and the exemption volume has not been applied against other investment income.

The deduction of the above flat-rate withholding tax is deemed final settlement of German income tax on private investment income. On application, the dividend may nevertheless be included together with other investment income in an individual income tax assessment if thus producing a lower personal income tax load.

For nonresident stockholders, the above withholding tax may be reduced subject to the provisions of a Double Taxation Convention (if any) between the country concerned and the Federal Republic of Germany. An application for refund of this reduction amount must have been received on or before December 31, 2014, by the Federal Central Tax Office ("Bundeszentralamt für Steuern") in 53221 Bonn, Germany.
